Concord, March 10, 1849.

Report of the Committee on Town House.

The Committee to whom was referred, by vote of the Town at the last annual meeting, the matter in relation to a Town House, report—

That they have made examinations and inquiries about the Town Houses which have recently been erected in different large towns in the State, with reference to their plans and expenses. Town Houses of such a character as the Committee suppose would be desirable here—if the town decide to build—have been erected at Dover, Manchester, Keene and other places, and they have furnished the committee with the most satisfactory means to determine the best plans and the probable expense.

The Committee have not thought it necessary to incur the expense of a particular plan to submit here. They supposed that what was desirable for the action of the Town, was information in regard to a general plan only with reference to the cost. In all the towns above mentioned, it has been deemed advisable to connect with the Town House other purposes besides those for which the town has occasion for itself, as a source of income to aid in defraying the expense. In that at Dover, there are Court Rooms and rooms for various offices; and in those at Manchester, Keene and Nashua, stores and other offices have been connected with the Town House, for that purpose. And in most if not all these instances the plan has proved a good one; the rents of the other parts of the building thus occupied going far to pay the interest on the cost of the building. And such a plan would probably be advisable here. The objections to such a plan are that it requires a greater expenditure in the first instance, and imposes a greater care on the town in the management of the building, collection of rents, &c.

The costs of the buildings in the above places afford, as the Committee suppose, means for determining with something approaching accuracy, the probable expense of one here. The location affecting the price of the lot, of course affects the whole cost. Without specifying any particular location, the committee are of the opinion that the expense of a Town House here on the plan above mentioned, including the lot, in any place where it would be thought advisable to locate it, would be near $20,000. In the most central and expensive location, it would probably exceed that sum by some three or four thousand dollars. In fixing these amounts the Committee have designed a liberal calculation, which would fully cover all expenses and contingencies.

Another plan has been considered by the committee, which has appeared to them to be on many accounts preferable to the one above mentioned. Individuals intending to build, have proposed to erect buildings so to furnish a Town Hall and such other offices as the town may need. The use and entire control of the parts desired by the town be secured to it as fully and conveniently as though in a separate building, owned by the Town alone. The arrangement may be made by the Town paying either a proportion of the expense of building or a certain sum out-right. The interest of the Town may be secured by a joint ownership of the property; or what would probably be better, by a perpetual lease with proper covenants of the parties to be held by the Town. The advantages of this plan are, that without sacrificing any benefits or conveniences, the Town will have a Town Hall and other offices at half the expense of a building by itself, and at the same time be relieved from all the contingent expenses of building, and the subsequent care and management of it. The committee are of the opinion that a satisfactory arrangement can be made for a Town Hall and other offices in very eligible locations, on this plan, at an expense not exceeding at the utmost with all expenses, $12·000, and probably for a less sum. It is the same proposed to the Town of Nashville for a Town House contemplated at that place.

By the vote under the authority of which this Committee acts, its duties are confined to plans and estimates of expenses, and the Committee has not therefore felt at liberty to allude to other considerations connected with this subject in regard to the expediency of a new Town House, and the benefits to be secured thereby.

Report of the Committee on Free Bridge.

The Committee to whom the subject of the Free Bridge was referred, would ask leave to report. The subscribers having examined said Bridge, and finding it in a somewhat decayed state, would recommend that the Town proceed to build an abutment at each shore of the river with stone, and two piers in the river, which in the opinion of your Committee can be built much cheaper while the present Bridge is standing than it can be after the Bridge is taken away. And your Committee would recommend that some suitable Committee be appointed to proceed and erect said abutments and piers the coming season. And the course recommended would in the opinion of your committee much facilitate the erection of a Bridge in case of the failure of the present Bridge.

ABEL BAKER, Committee in conjunction with the Selectmen.

Concord, March 15th, 1849.

Report of the Chief Engineer.

The undersigned has received from the Selectmen, the past year, $220·71

Which has been expended as follows:

Paid Shelton & Cheever, for 2 joints of Suction for Engine No. 2, and 2 do. do. for Engine No. 6,	71·50
" freight on do.,	00·62
" J. Titcomb for repair of hose carriage, No. 2..	1·50
" for oil, oiling hose, and repairs of Engine No. 2.,	12·77
" for covering and repairs of Reservoir near Lewis Downing's house,	29·83
" William Carr for repairs and coppering Engine No. 3,	30·56
" Timothy Colby for repairs of Engine House No. 3, (burnt,)	30·10
" Seth Merrill and Levi Lamprey each, for 15 hours services as Watchmen at fire, Abbot's Shop,	3·00
" H. Fessenden's bill for repair of Buckets, &c. Engine No. 3,	2·50
" Morrill & Silsby bill for notices and warrants,	2·75
" Lewis Downing's bill for repairing fence,	2·83

Paid D. A. Hill for oil, oiling hose and repairs of Engine No. 4,	12·00
" G. Perkins for oil, oiling hose and repairs of Engine No. 6,	10·75
" one years services as Chief Engineer,	10·00
Making,	$220·71

The Engine House occupied by Company No. 4, is 15 by 20 ft. square. It is so small that the Engine and Hose Carriage cannot be placed in a direct line with each other. The Hose Carriage being placed at right angle with the Engine; a position unfavorable to a quick forward movement of the Engine, and one likely to upset and impair the Hose Carriage, and consequently delay the Engine in case of fire.

The house is so poorly constructed, that, in cold weather, it is difficult to get sufficient heat to thaw and dry the Engine and Hose; four or five days and nights being usually necessary for that purpose. In the event of fires in near succession, during the cold season, the use of that valuable Engine, located in a most important section of the Town, would probably be lost, owing entirely to the imperfect construction of the house in which it is kept.

By turning round the present house, and adding to it 20 by 20 feet, 2 stories high, would make a building 20 by 35 feet, which would be of suitable size; or, should it be thought economy to build a new House, the present one could probably be disposed of, and the avails applied for that purpose.

The Reservoirs which have been constructed at the expense of the Town, have proved a most valuable and indispensable acquisition to the means of extinguishing fires.—There are places, however, within the limits of the most compact part of the Town, almost entirely destitute of water, and what there is, is generally so located that it cannot be got at or drawn with a suction Engine.

The first place to which I would direct your attention, is the whole distance on Main street from the South Church to the dwelling house of Lewis Downing, Esqr.

The next is a section of the Town, the centre of which would be near the dwelling of Col. Stephen Brown, on School street.

The next is on, and westerly of State street, and south of Pleasant street, embracing the south-westerly section of the compact part of the Town.

There are doubtless, other destitute places, which have not come within my observation, or to which my attention has not been directed by the citizens.

The expense of constructing Reservoirs, of durable materials, and which will contain 1000 cubic feet of water, will vary, according to the kind of earth and depth of excavation, from 100 to 160 dollars.

Respecting Fire Hooks, the town have none suitable for effective service. Those which belong to the Town, whenever their use has been attempted, have either broken or straightened out, and consequently thrown down and made a pile of the men attached to them instead of pulling down the building to which they were attached. As respects Ladders, the Town, to my knowledge, have never owned any, excepting those usually kept at the Poor Farm.

Ladders belonging to the citizens are not usually of sufficient strength to sustain the weight of three or four hosemen, with a sufficient quantity of leading hose, full of water, to reach the upper windows or roof of a three story building.

LUTHER ROBY, Chief Engineer.

Concord, March 10, 1849.

Report of the Superintending School Committee.

A well organized, judicious, and efficient common school system, is of the first importance to any people, especially a free people. This lies at the foundation of free institutions, and forms the only sure safeguard of individual rights. No Republic can long exist without it. It is equally necessary for the church and the state; for the welfare of man here and hereafter. Light is not the offspring of darkness; nor is virtue the offspring of ignorance. It is a base libel both upon man and his creator, to say that "ignorance is the mother of devotion;" or of any thing else that pertaineth to the welfare of our race or the glory of God. "Knowledge is power," and when rightly directed and applied it is more —it is purity and peace It expands and elevates the mind, and leads one to employ the requisite instrumentalities for usefulness and happiness in time and for eternity.

Hence it affords the Superintending School Committee of Concord great pleasure to be able to report an increasing interest and improvement in most of the public schools in town during the past year. It is true, there are some few districts, which are not only "behind the times," but also far behind the pressing exigencies of their own, and the community's best good. Their old, dilapidated, inconvenient, unhealthy houses, and cheap, inexperienced, inefficient teachers, are matters of bad economy, and such as have a sad influence over the morals, habits, health and mental developement of the rising generation.

Most of the districts, however, are improving; some of them rapidly. Better teachers are employed and more interest is manifested by parents. The schools, during both the summer and winter terms, have, generally, been larger, and more orderly than heretofore. There have been but two cases of insubordination requiring the interference of the committee during the year. The larger districts have, in most cases, had able, faithful and efficient teachers; a majority of whom being of the first order. Many of the teachers in the smaller districts also, were well qualified, energetic and successful. And their schools, in several instances, appeared, considering their advantages, as well as any in town. Some of them having made a very marked and decided advance in improvement beyond the previous year. Indeed, the teachers generally, and a large majority of the scholars, have done themselves much credit during both the summer and winter terms. And the friends of common school education, have occasion to congratulate themselves on the interesting and improving state of most of their schools; and also to be encouraged and incited to greater interest and exertion in behalf of this important department of human welfare.

The district in Fisherville, and the three districts in the main village, have each different departments, according to the numbers, age and acquirements of the scholars. This we consider an admirable arrangement. Also the structure and facilities of the school rooms in these districts are, in most instances, well adapted to the convenience and success of teachers and comfort and improvement of the pupils. There is, however, even here, a greater or less deficiency of requisite apparatus for the illustration of the principles and facts in the more important branches of education.—But this deficiency, we trust, will soon be supplied by the munificence of those who have contributed so liberally to fit up and furnish their school rooms in such admirable style in other respects. "A word to the wise is sufficient!"

The other districts in town are far behind, in this particular, to those just alluded to. Most of them having no apparatus for illustration whatever. This we consider a great defect, which ought immediately to be remedied. And the expense of so doing would be trifling compared with the advantage that might accrue. During the past year, the hall in the second story of the school house in district No. 9, has been finished and furnished with seats and desks of the most approved form; and is now one of the most commodious and pleasant school rooms in town. It was dedicated to the purposes of education by a very appropriate and instructive address from the teacher to the inhabitants, and other suitable services. But it is greatly to be desired that the seats in the basement rooms of this school house should be taken out and their place supplied by others similar to the seats in the hall above.

Districts No. 23, 25 and 1, have been united; and this, in the opinion of the committee, has been of great benefit to these districts. They are now able to have longer terms both in summer and winter. And it gives us much pleasure to say that we have observed a decided improvement in that school.

Several of the districts were reminded by the committee of last year, that they "would be exceedingly benefitted by remodeling their school rooms and furnishing them with improved seats and desks.' But as this advice has not been heeded by either of those districts, and as there are others that need the same admonition, we would add, that much ought to be done in this respect, in order to furnish the scholars in these districts with proper facilities and inducements for improvement in mental culture and moral and physical training. Most of the rooms need to be enlarged. And in every instance the scholars would be greatly benefitted by being furnished with better and more extensive yards and play grounds.

The district in the west village ought immediately to divide their school into two departments; and to enlarge and remodel their house so as to be conveniently adapted to such an arrangement.

The districts in the east village might derive much advantage from uniting together in one; and then dividing their school thus united into a higher and lower department. At the same time erecting a new house; constructed after the improved plan of several school houses in town, recently built or remodeled. This arrangement would not only be economical in the end, but also conduce very much to the success of the scholars in every department of education. And we earnestly recommend to the inhabitants of those districts that they take measures immediately to effect so desirable an object.

Among the evils which we noticed in the schools were, a want, in several instances, of proper discipline of punctuality in the attendance of scholars, and too great a variety of text books. This latter evil, however, is much less now than at the commencement of the year. The committee have succeeded beyond their expectations in introducing the books which they recommended; still much remains to be done in many districts.

In two or three instances, complaint has been made of teachers; one of whom the committee thought it advisable to dismiss. Such complaints and difficulties, as well as many other evils, would be far less frequent if prudential committees were more careful in selecting teachers possessing the requisite qualifications, and parents more interested in inspecting the schools personally.

The committee are unanimons in the belief that there is an imperious necessity for raising more money for the support of the schools. The smaller districts, especially, need a larger appropriation of money to enable them to employ better teachers and to have larger schools.

In compliance with the provisions of the act, entitled "An act in addition to chapter seventy-three of the Revised Statutes," approved July 10, 1846, the Superintendiug School Committee of the town of Concord, county of Merrimack, submit the following report of the condition, &c., of the Schools in said town the past year.

District No. 8, in Hopkinton. Number of Scholars from Concord, 12. Amount of money from Concord, $3·97.

Books used. Spelling—Town's Speller and Definer, Webster's Spelling Book. Reading—Town's Series, Swan's do., Porter's Rhetorical Reader, Monitorial Reader, Popular Lessons. Grammar—Weld's, Wells', Smith's and Sanborn's. Geography—Smith's Quarto, Morse's. Arithmetic—Adams' New, Greenleaf's Series, Davies' and Colbourn's.

Remarks. The committee have not been able to obtain full and accurate reports from all the schools under their supervision. This is owing to the remisness of teachers and prudential committees. In reference to the sums of money set opposite each district, they include the money received from school fund. The amount raised by the town is $4000·00—School fund, $229·74.

We certify the foregoing to be a true statement.
